

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's telephone privacy law protections. I recieve sevrreral calls during the week with multiple calls several evenings. I also get computer calls that do not hang up the line that last for several minutes. This interruption takes time away from my family. I wish to reduce the amount of calls and therefore signed up with Indiana Attourney's Office to get the calls reduced. The telemarketer's could send their info through the mail and I will consider it on my own time with all the information in front of me.

Please do not change Indiana's telephone privacy law. Thank You
